iCom and the Phonak TVLink: unlimited access to the world of communication

With Phonak TVLink, it is easy to connect the hearing system wirelessly to the TV or any other audio source up to 30 m (100 ft). StereoSound makes mono wireless transmission a relic of the past. An amazingly short transmission delay ensures listening pleasure even for open fittings. The hearing system also functions as a wireless headset allowing the benefit of hands-free functionality during phone calls.
