 +  = Finally enjoying the food... and the conversation

You recognize the situation all too well: you're at a noisy gathering, a restaurant or bar, surrounded by loud conversation, laughing or music, and struggling to hear the conversation either right in front of you or at a distance. It seems hopeless and you give up.

The Roger Pen microphone changes everything. It instantly reduces background noise and transfers the clear sound of the voice you want to hear directly to your hearing aids. Simply place it on a table, hold it in your hand or pass it to whoever is speaking. Compatible with virtually every hearing aid and cochlear implant, it's intuitive and easy to use.

Vibrant sound. Less stress. More comfort.

The Roger Pen is ideal for all noisy environments or over distance, such as:

- Family gatherings
- One-to-one conversations
- Restaurants and bars
- Meetings or lectures

Also helpful for:

- TV, PC, MP3, etc.
- Cell phone calls

Also available: the Roger Clip-On Mic, featuring the same speech-in-noise performance as the Roger Pen.

 +  = Keeping in touch

It's happened countless times—you're at home, trying to enjoy a phone conversation with a friend. But the TV is on in the background, the kids are playing or listening to music. There's just too much noise and you are overwhelmed. Eventually, you may find yourself avoiding using the phone, even losing touch with the people you care about.

The Phonak DECT CP1 cordless phone can make a world of difference. While it looks like a standard phone, it's actually much more powerful, transmitting sound to both ears simultaneously, reducing noise and maximizing understanding. There's even a 'booster mode' for times when you're not wearing your hearing aids.

And because it's a regular phone too, the whole family can use it.

The Phonak DECT CP1 is ideal for:

- Phone calls at home
- Phone calls in small offices
